May / June 2025

Dear Pastors, Friends, and Co-laborers,

First, we want to thank each and every one of you for your prayers and support during this difficult time of surgery and healing. Our family has felt all of your love and sacrificial support during this time. As I write this letter, it is now mid-July, and I have been healing for four weeks now since the removal of my ascending colon. I am almost to the point of feeling back to normal, but I have to continue to take it easy, as I still have four more weeks of healing. Again, our family cannot say thank you enough for your prayers; the healing process is going well, and they have determined that all of the precancerous tumor cells have been successfully removed!

Now, about the ministry! While I was in the hospital and at home recovering during most of June, my family was keeping the ministry going at church. It was a blessing to see Jeffrey step up and teach the teens for their teen activity that we have one Saturday a month! Also, during the month of June, we decided to make it our Missions Month to try and start teaching our people at LBC of Acacia about missions giving. For this, we asked three different national pastors to come in and preach/teach to our people on the subject of missions and missions giving. God knew that this was indeed the month for us to do it, for I was not able to be there for most of the Sundays due to my surgery and recovery, so all of the services were already covered! We also praise the Lord for the way He spoke to our people in regards to missions giving! At the end of July, we will add up the missions-giving cards that are turned in and see how much, as a church, we will start giving to support missions! It's a blessing to see that we were sent halfway around the world to be missionaries—now we have seen God start a church, and that church is now getting involved in seeing others go out as missionaries to other areas where we cannot go!

May and June marked the completion of our third and fourth months of PPTA! The men are really growing spiritually! They are asking really great questions during the class sessions, which shows that they are searching for the truth so that they can stand where God would have them to stand upon the truth of His Word! We have heard several good testimonies as well on how the people back in their churches are thankful for the correct teaching and growth from God's Word! Thank you again to everyone who has sacrificially given toward this program! Together we are seeing God do a great work in these men's lives and in their ministries, which will touch countless souls for Christ!
